UPMC | POLICY MATTERS

Some months deliver whirlwind feelings, waves from successful events and accomplishments to the challenges that continue to surround and support many. We're celebrating through a number of partnerships that expand access to expert medical services and a new, innovative program that will help our youth navigate their future careers.

I want to share a couple of highlights from the leaders and team members like Dave Gibbons, regional president and senior vice president of UPMC Susquehanna, and Jeff Hoffman, president and senior policy officer at UPMC Susquehanna, who are meeting and greeting people in the communities we serve and beyond.

Finally, a variety of community events like "Mom's Night Out" help to bring people together, such as the one we hosted October at Shady Canyon Adventure Center.

Every day, our teams are continuing to connect people to the care, services and support they need to live their best lives. We're excited to share numerous programs and partnerships celebrating access to care, workforce development and the importance of mental health and safety, both in our communities and beyond.

Ohio Valley Community Welcomes UPMC Trinity

Ohio Valley General Hospital has officially become UPMC Trinity, a partnership which will expand UPMC Trinity and a New Castle-area health care in the Ohio Valley.

"We are excited to officially welcome the transition a pivotal moment in the city's history.

"We are taking a major step forward, strengthening our identity as a leading health care provider and employer in the region for years to come. When people think of Ohio Valley, they will think UPMC. Trinity. Ohio Valley General Hospital will be a proud part of the UPMC family of hospitals, UPMC Ohio Valley Physicians, and our overall UPMC community, we are just not announcing one — we are announcing many. Together, we will continue to meet the needs of our local communities as a leading UPMC."

UPMC's Program That Closes the 'White Space' in Care

UPMC's Journey Home is a newly launched home-based reintegration program only. Now, one-stop-shop that connects women leaving jail to health care, housing, employment and other resources. The National Institutes Manager Partners with New Initiative Women Leaving Jail to Health Care, Housing, Employment, Mental Health, Behavioral Health, and Social Support Needs in the Home.

By creating a single point of entry for care and removing potential barriers to access, Journey Home aims to help its participants live more productive, connected lives while reducing avoidable emergency department visits and hospitalizations.
