Knowing What to Expect

We want to involve you in every part of your prenatal care. Your plan includes one-on-one visits with your doctor, midwife, or advanced practice provider as well as educational resources to guide you through your pregnancy. Our team-based approach lets you know what to expect when you're expecting — every step of the way.

Your Pregnancy Calendar

Your one-on-one provider visits will focus on you — the issues you are having and information you need to make decisions that are right for your pregnancy. Each visit will include a check to look at the health of you and your baby.

While every pregnancy is different, this booklet will provide you with a timeline of what to expect for your pregnancy experience. You may need to have a different visit schedule or testing depending on your condition. We encourage you to check with your insurance provider to see what tests will be covered.

Day of Delivery

The day of delivery is different for everyone. You may come in for labor, have an induction of labor, or a planned C-section. Your provider will give you special instructions to help you prepare for the day of delivery.

After Your Delivery

Your Hospital Stay After Delivery

Congratulations on the birth of your baby!

What to Expect in⁷ the Hospital After Your Delivery

- You will watch educational videos about preventing Shaken Baby Syndrome and Sudden Infant Death Syndrome and will be given printed discharge instructions specific to your care needs.
- You will learn more about breastfeeding/chestfeeding and receive expert assistance as needed.
- You will receive routine blood testing.

- We welcome 1 support person to stay with you overnight.

What to Expect in the Hospital for Your Baby

- Your baby will receive a hepatitis B vaccine and routine medicines and testing to keep them healthy.
- Your baby will be seen by a doctor.
- If you have a baby boy, you can choose to have him circumcised.
- To support successful feeding, UPMC does not provide pacifiers. If you would like your baby to use a pacifier, you may bring one from home.

4th Trimester

2-3 Days After You Leave the Hospital — Baby's Provider Visit

2 Weeks After Delivery — Video Visit

6 Weeks After Delivery — In Office Visit or Video Visit, if needed

To-Do List

- Check with your insurance provider to see if you are eligible to receive a breast pump.
- Get rest when you can.
- Keep track of how you are feeling and let your provider know if you are experiencing feelings of depression or anxiety.
- Wear the purple “I Delivered” bracelet that you received in the hospital. In case of a medical emergency, this bracelet lets care providers, and those around you, know that you recently had a baby.
- Schedule follow-up visits for you and your baby.

You may be able to leave the hospital anywhere between 24 to 72 hours after delivery. Your care team will review recovery-based milestones with you during your stay to determine when you and your baby are ready to leave.
